I've always thought the whole simulation conspirac theory way retarded, but honestly is there any other way to describe worldwide mass protests and riots over ONE cop accidentally killing ONE nigger, right after mass panic from the flu part II, and even during these protests everyone's wearing masks that are proven not to work?

Nothing else can describe why this is happening other than the simulation is broken and the great program is about to restart.

It's just virtue signalling. Most of them don't mean it, they hold no firm ideological beliefs at all.

The silence brand part is because they don't want niggers to loot their stores.

look at your normiebook by the number of "white ally"posters versus the total number of friends. It's minuscule, but it's trending via algorithm. The problem is this is breeding a massive hidden resentment because people can't speak their mind. Everyone silent right now is anti protest and probably starting to feel pretty anti jogger. That anger doesn't get turned into a facebook post, it gets turned into a private conversation with their actual friendgroup. It gets turned into a vote in november.

i spoke about this last night but the more ive seen of this the more im convinced that honestly its the BLM/antifa crowd and their formulaic droney chants that killed this as a potential wider happening, the white women larping along with them sealed it.
when there was unguided genuine rage shown in minnie on the first 3 nights, it was wild with fights and fires popping up everywhere at random, as soon as all these white liberal faggots wormed their way in it lost all of its energy.

these people being so fucking pathetic and syo ridden just leeches energy out of anyone they go near, they robbed us of some real carnage.
the same shit chants for 3 years, the same optics, the same demographic, the same low numbers.
you know when we get random leftypol posts on here talking about how none of these people are the real left and theyre sent out to cuck them as much as groups like the proudmutts are sent out to misrepresent the right, i kind of believe thats possible now.

What does Al Sharpton and these victims of police brutality families have in common? All of these cases resulted in 0 convictions, with the exception of Floyd's case pending. You think Al Sharpton, member of Phi Beta Sigma by way of Prince Hall Freemasons doesn't know the narrative he has to push or the outcome? This march on Washington will be the culmination of his gatekeeping deception to goad you into a civil war. This trial has been over before it started. The other families that have received some justice, Al Sharpton wasn't on site doing press with the families. Al Sharpton was on hand to give the eulogy of Rodney King, if you remember that verdict: ALL 4 were acquitted, 3 out of 4 acquitted for excessive force, the 4th was undecided. African American community better give over this 'Sunk Cost Fallacy' with these so called "Black Leaders."

Everyone waiting for a happening is foolish. There's isn't going to be some historic moment any time soon. The white house won't fall.

They're pushing the line one inch at a time. Look where we are.... BLM and DEFUND THE POLICE are written on the road in front of the white house. They renamed the road leading to the white house. Look at everything happening. We're losing one small battle at a time. Every single time we engage.

This world is totally unrecognizable to me... Being born in 1990 I can't believe how far we've fallen. This is legitimately the end of the US as we know it..."It" already happened. It died with a wimper. There was no call to arms or glory. We were the frog slowly boiled all along.

Québécois here. If you learn french you'll integrate quickly, we are a mix between american and french culture. As for where to go in the province, you could either help us reclaim Montreal (which is still way better that (((Toronto))) or other big canadian cities) or go directly anywhere else and live with like 3% minorities. Beauce is probably the most America like region politics wise.

not in the first couple of nights.
from what i saw, the target being looted, the autozone and on night 3 the police station were all obviously managed by the umbrella people but for those 3 nights, there were organic fires aswell, i watched 10 hours of live footage on the third night and st paul had about 20 fires going at once nevermind minn
